
UNLESS YOU ARE INvolved in the routine of the organized confusion, similar to that which makes up the operation of a community newspaper like this, you probably won't appreciate the difficulty we have experienced this past week in adjusting to the disruption caused by Thanksgiving.

You see for 49 weeks out of the year, we more or less follow a set pattern. The "week" at The Press, for all intents and purposes, ends on Tuesday night when the newspaper goes to bed.

The paper is distributed on Wednesday which, in a way, is sort of a breathing-spell-day.

Much of the time in the office is devoted to fielding various and sundry calls from (1) those who missed their paper or (2) from those who have taken exception to what has appeared in the paper or (3) what hasn't appeared and the callers think should have.

There are certain other matters that have been taken up on Wednesday on a personal basis over the years, and have become firmly established as part of the regular routine at the joint.

But we won't go into that except to point out that our golf game is still lousy.

DURING THANKSGIVING week The Press was delivered on Monday and this meant putting it to bed the previous Saturday.

You can imagine how much havoc this raised with our set routine.

For example, we were almost ready to trit-trot out to the golf course on Monday. (We thought it was Wednesday because the paper was being delivered that day.)

Ordinarily we cover the City Council meeting on Monday and report it in the Wednesday's paper which means translating the councilmatic activities of Monday night on Tuesday morning.

We were present at the City Council meeting Monday night. But it was sort of like wading in a pool with one's socks on.

We didn't have to worry about interpreting the actions immediately as the paper was already out.

We are telling you all this because ordinarily this column is written on Friday. But inasmuch as the office was going to be closed that day, this column had to be written on Wednesday, the week before it is being read by you people.

Therefore, the topics covered, as a consequence, in this week's rendition of "the limb" must stand the test of time.

At least for a week, that is.

SURPRISINGLY THERE are a number of changes that can take place in a week in this community.

Take that current school district hassle as a f'instance.

This Thursday (Dec. 3) the school board is scheduled to meet in a public session at which time the report of the Citizens Finance Advisory Committee, which was sort of the fuse that sent the whole mess into orbit, is to be discussed.

You can well imagine that the discussion of some of the more controversial issues will be quite interesting.

Somehow "interesting" does not seem to be the proper word to use.

But we will let that pass.

AS WE WRITE THIS (Nov. 25), we note that a special board meeting (personnel-executive session) has been set for Monday, Nov. 30.

We assume that session has been called for the specific purpose of answering the letter that Neal Royer has sent to the board members.

Thanksgiving tradition

The Thanksgiving spirit was dampened slightly for loyal Campbell supporters when, for the first time in six years, Los Gatos High came out on top 27-19 in the traditional Turkey Day classic.

On the same day, Leigh High, the league champs, demolished Westmont 54-6; Del Mar posted a 14-0 victory over Camden; Saratoga took Blackford 12-7 and Branham clobbered Prospect 34-6.

Malicious pre-game activities, on the part of supposedly Campbell High youths, which resulted in extensive damages to Los Gatos High facilities, marred this year's festivities to some extent. No incidents, however, took place at the game which was played before the usual packed stands in the 37th annual renewal of the gridiron rivalry between the two schools.

More details on inside pages.

AFFIRMATIVE VOTE WILL UPHOLD COUNCIL

First referendum election takes place next Tuesday

Voters within the city limits of Campbell will go to the polls next Tuesday, Dec. 8, in the first referendum election in this city's 18-year history. Polls in the 14 precincts will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The only issue on the ballot for the voters to decide will be whether four members of the City Council should be upheld in their enactment of a zoning change affecting a six-acre parcel of land adjacent to the present Winchester Drive-in Theater.

A "yes" vote will uphold the Council's action and a "no" vote will overrule it.

City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan reports that 10,[illegible] registered voters are eligible to vote in this historic local election, but based on past municipal voting, she estimates that 20% or less will turn out at the polls.

But the city clerk hedges a bit. She points out that, inasmuch as this is the first referendum election in the city's history, there is no previous voting pattern to go by.

She reports that the largest turnout for a strictly municipal election was in June, 1969, when 2337 voters turned out for the park bond issue election. The bonds were passed at that time with a 23% vote cast.

The four councilmen in their argument, which was included with the sample ballots sent to the voters, maintain that if they are overruled next Tuesday, the city could be subjected to a law suit on the part of the property owner (Syufy Enterprises).

If a judgment was rendered against the city this could raise the city taxes considerably.

The councilmen also maintain that the theater owners should have the right to develop their property just as any other property owner in the city and that there is no access to any public road for any development other than through the present theater which desires to put a third screen on the six-acre parcel to supplement the two that the theater already operates adjacent to it.

They emphasize also that two screens have existed for three years and will remain. They feel that a third screen would thus create less of a problem for the city as a whole than any other development.

Leaders in the movement to overrule the City Council action include two members of the present Planning Commission, Jack Healey and Frank Klein, and Councilman Ed Rogers, who voted against the rezoning action.

In their arguments, they stress that the rezoning of the six-acre parcel was not in the best interest of the citizens of Campbell because it will allow a third screen to be placed adjacent to present residential property (mobile home park).

They claim that the access problem that is associated with the property is the responsibility of the onwer of the property

They add also that the general plan of the city would be placed in jeopardy, if the zone change is allowed.

Recall action

Renewed activity in obtaining signatures for the recall of Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong and Ralph Steinberg, school district trustees, is expected now that the Thanksgiving holidays are over, Ed Wood, general chairman of the petition workers, said this week.

Wood added that the first accurate tabulation of the signatures to date is expected next week. He said that there has been a slight delay in the tabulation because in some cases the precinct number was not listed with the signatures. He cautioned all petition-carriers in the future to be sure that number appears on the petitions.

ON REFERENDUM ISSUE

JayCees sponsor debate this Friday

The Campbell civic leaders, Mayor Dean Chamberlin and Jack Healey, member of the Planning Commission, will debate the referendum issue, involving a zoning action by the city council, at a public meeting at the Campbell Elementary School on Cherry Lane this Friday, Dec. 4. The referendum election is on Tuesday, Dec. 8.

The town hall meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. is sponsored by the Campbell JayCees. Allan Blaine, JayCee president, will be moderator for the evening, according to Rich Bonnet, publicity chairman.

The debate on Friday will mark the seventh appearance Chamberlin and Healey have made before various service clubs and other organizations of the community on the zoning question.

Chamberlin, one of the four councilmen who approved the rezoning of the six-acre parcel adjacent to the Winchester Drive-in Theater, in his presentations has emphasized the reasoning that led to the Council's action; the possibility of a law suit if the Council is not upheld and the access problems that the six-acre parcel presents.

Healey, on the other hand, claimed that the rezoning of the parcel was not in accord with the general plan of the city.

Healey and Frank Klein, another member of the Planning Commission, were instrumental in getting the necessary signatures on a petition that has brought about the first referendum election in this city's history.

According to the "ground rules" that have been established for the debate on Friday, as suggested by Blaine, the moderator, each speaker will have 20 minutes to present his case and 10-minutes for rebuttal.

According to Blaine, after the speakers have finished, the audience will be invited to participate in a question and answer period.

"We sincerely hope that the citizens of Campbell will avail themselves of this opportunity to become informed on this vital question affecting the city," Blaine adds.

COUNCIL TAKES NO ACTION

Fireworks to remain "legal" in Campbell

Safe and sane fireworks will continue to be legal in Campbell despite the efforts of fire department officials to have them banned.

Pleas by Fire Chief George Maxwell and Fire Marshal Gene Borden to have the sale of fireworks outlawed within the city limits proved fruitless at the last City Council meeting.

No action was taken by the City Council to change the present ordinance which allows the sale, and no public hearing on the question, as requested by the fire department officials, was scheduled.

Most of the councilmen indicated that they were sympathetic to the county-wide movement to ban fireworks, initiated by fire department personnel, but they also emphasized that to make a ban effective it had to be on a county-wide basis.

Councilman Bill Smeed suggested that the issue should be taken up by the Inter-City Council, composed of representatives of all the cities and the county.

Councilman Ed Rogers said he felt that the ban had merit, he thought, and it would eventually come about, but that it was necessary to have cooperation throughout the county and that one city's action would be of no value.

Mayor Dean Chamberlin, who explained that he had worked with his service club for the past 12 years in conducting the sale of fireworks during the Fourth of July period, said the good should be weighed against the bad.

He said that his service club derived almost its entire budget for youth work from the profits of the fireworks activity.

In presenting their case against fireworks, Maxwell and Borden pointed out that they were aware of the opposition of "big business" and also of the good work done by the service clubs. They maintained, however, that they did not think the "good" was substantial enough to offset the injuries and damage that fireworks cause every year.

Borden cited figures showing the damages caused by fireworks. He emphasized that "safe and sane" fireworks are responsible for the majority of the fires and the injuries.

Taking the floor in opposition against the stand of the two Campbell fire department officials were representatives of the manufacturers and distributors of fireworks.

Pat Moriarty, of the "Red Devil Co.," who was introduced by Harvey Green of "Bonanza Fireworks", maintained that the state fire marshal's office at the present time had adequate authority to control the fireworks laws and provide for more safety precautions.

He also emphasized that, if the fireworks were banned, the illegal activities that would result from the ban, would create a much greater problem.

Also opposing the fire department was Frank Vacarela, of "Freedom Fireworks" who described himself as an "oldtimer" in the field. He criticized the fire departments for

AT ROLLING HILLS SCHOOL

Board meets Thursday on finances

Campbell Union (elementary) School District's financial situation, brought into focus by a report of a Citizens Advisory Finance Committee, will get a public airing this Thursday, Dec. 3, at a special school board meeting.

The meeting will be held at Rolling Hills School (More Ave. at Pollard) at 7 p.m.

The meeting has been called for the express purpose of reviewing the report of the committee and to discuss the financial status of the school district. No other matter will be on the agenda.

The only regular meeting of the board for the month will be held on Thursday, Dec. 10 at Cypress School.

The preliminary report of the finance committee, which was filed on Oct. 7, dropped a fiscal bombshell on the community when it revealed the chaotic financial condition of the district and emphasized that the business manager of the district had erred in reporting the situation. The committee recommended that C. E. Bradley, business manager, be dismissed.

The written report of the committee was filed with the board on Oct. 22 but no public discussion has been held on its contents since that time. Thus the meeting this Thursday at Rolling Hills will be the first time that the controversial report will have been aired in public in detail.

When the meeting was scheduled, some of the board members indicated that they would submit written questions to the committee prior to the Dec. 3 meeting to allow time for the committee members to present their answers.

Jim D'Avis, acting superintendent, said this week that a number of questions have been transmitted to the committee, and he expected to have the written answers by the time of the meeting. He added that the staff will also supplement the report on technical phases of the situation.

It was pointed out also that members of the audience will probably have the opportunity to submit questions at Thursday's meeting, on forms that can be picked up at the door.

Although the report by the finance committee has not been "officially" discussed in public, much of its contents have been made known throughout the community and have provided the base for instituting the recall action now pending against two of the trustees, Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong and Ralph Steinberg.

Editorial

Vote "YES" Tuesday

Next Tuesday, Dec. 8, voters in the City of Campbell go to the polls in the first referendum election in this city's history.

The following is the wording of the issue on the ballot:

"Shall Ordinance No. 789, passed and adopted on the 27th day of July, 1970, amending the zoning map of the City of Campbell, California, and rezoning the northerly 6 acres, more or less, of land of Winchester Drive-In Theater, Inc., from R-3-S to M-1-S be approved."

We urge a "YES" vote.

The zoning change was adopted by four members of the City Council, Dean Chamberlin, Ralph Doetsch, Bill Smeed and Bill Podgorsek. One councilman, Dr. Ed Rogers cast a negative vote.

We sincerely believe that the four councilmen acted in the best interests of the city in enacting the zoning change which will allow a third screen to be erected on the six acres, complementing the two that have been in operation by the theater for some time.

It is our contention that the third screen is the most practical development for the six acres, based on the peculiar circumstances involving the situation.

It must be emphasized that in no way will the operation of the two screens be affected by vote of the people. The theater will continue to operate the two screens on the adjoining land to the six acres.

It must be further emphasized that the only access at the present time to the six acres, other than an easement for agricultural purposes only over a right-of-way to Union Ave., is through the theater property on which the two screens are now located.

Efforts to obtain a right-of-way to Union Ave. over the private road used for the mobile home park became so entangled in legal maneuvers by the parties concerned that nothing could be settled.

However, even if the right-of-way could have been obtained on this 36-foot wide access road, we question whether dumping traffic from a 244-unit apartment complex, as had been suggested as an alternate use for this six acres, would be good planning.

In our opinion, the heavy traffic and other problems created by the apartments, would be more upsetting to the neighborhood than an additional screen, keeping in mind that two screens now exist and will remain in existence.

Obviously, of course, those living in the mobile home park would prefer that the six acres remain undeveloped and, we also assume, they would like to see the present theater eliminated.

But it should be just as obvious that a property owner cannot be denied the right to develop his own property in a legal manner.

And the City Council has had to face that dilemma.

There is a good possibility that should the Council's action be overturned at the polls next Tuesday, the property owner (Syufy Enterprises) will resort to the courts for redress.

Should the courts then find in favor of the theater owner, the City of Campbell could be faced with heavy damages resulting in an additional burden to the already over-burdened taxpayer.

And the third screen would still go on the property.

We hold that the City Council majority of four members took the proper course for the benefit of the city as a whole in rezoning the six acres.

We believe that under the circumstances, the Council action was the only practical solution to a problem that, unfortunately, was inherited originally by the city from the county.

We, therefore, feel that the decision of the four councilmen in this instance, was a sincere effort by them to serve the best interests of the city.

We sincerely feel that their action should be upheld next Tuesday, Dec. 8 by an affirmative vote of the citizens.

In his letter, Neal asked that the board give reasons for his demotion in a personnel session at which he is present.

It very well could be, that by the time you read this, you have already heard the results of the session.

So, you see what we mean, a week in that particular case could really mean something.

We would very much like to know the "charges" made public that the three board members, Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, Ralph Steinberg and Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, allegedly have against Neal.

The community deserves to know.

After all, Neal wasn't removed, he was demoted to principal. He still receives his superintendent's pay of $30,000 per annum and he has three years to go on his contract.

We concede that principals are important cogs in the school district operation. But a $30,000 per year principal?

It is interesting to note that Royer, over a 24-year period, has been a teacher, a vice-principal, principal, assistant superintendent and a superintendent in the district.

It seems to us that it shouldn't have taken 24 years to find out that he was incapable of being a superintendent.

He was hired as superintendent by a unanimous vote of the board as Bill Henley's successor in 1964 and given a four-year contract.

On Dec. 12, 1968, the minutes of the board reveal that Neal was given a new four-year contract, also by a unanimous vote.

The record shows that in 1964 and in 1968 Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, who is now facing recall action, was a member of the board that cast the unanimous votes.

Mrs. Graham-Armstrong also voted on Oct. 8 with MacQuiddy and Steinberg to demote Royer.

NEXT TUESDAY, DEC. 8, the voters within the city limits of Campbell will go to the polls in the first referendum election in this city's history.

The question is whether the City Council (a four-vote majority) was right in a zoning action with respect to the Winchester Drive-in Theater.

We sincerely believe that the City Council action should be upheld as it was the logical course to take.

We urge you to vote "Yes" next Tuesday.

ON A LESS CONTROversial note, we are happy to report that there are some people who don't think the writer of this column is as nasty an old man as some probably would have you believe.

Here is a little gem we excerpted from a letter that our gal Sal received in the mail:

"....I sure like the Campbell Press and the first thing I turn to is Mr. George Vierhus' "out-on-the-limb".

"He is such a modest man."

So there now.

ANOTHER LETTER WE received made us feel even better.

You may recall that in one of our recent columns, we remarked about the election of Barbara Ruhnke to the St. Lucy's Parish Council.

Barbara, an 18-year old West Valley College coed, was elected to the Parish Council as a write-in candidate.

We thought it was great and said so in this column.

We hope you don't mind, if we share with you the nice letter we received from Mary Jo Weslow, a member of St. Lucy's Youth Council, with respect to our remarks in "out-on-the limb."

Come to think of it, even if you do mind, we will quote it anyway.

It offsets a couple of brickbats.

Here is the letter:

Dear Mr. Vierhus,

I would very much appreciate this article published in your fine column "Out on the Limb." I know the article I have written is not the finest literary piece in the world, but it is done with the thought that perhaps the example set by Barbara in "taking the plunge" could encourage other young people in becoming more active as responsible citizens of Campbell.

So here you have it.

Barbara doesn't know this letter is being sent but I think she would object to praise.

The only thing is she deserves it!

Mr. George Vierhus,

After reading your article about Barbara Ruhnke being elected as a member of St. Lucy's Parish Council, I feel that you should know the type of person Barbara really is.

She was an active member in the Youth Council, forming many ideas and helping things get and keep going. Without her the St. Lucy's Youth Council would not be the success that it is.

It is unanimous that the people within the Youth Council and without, all admire and respect her very much. Because of this reason we felt that she could represent the Youth of the Parish by helping through the Parish Council.

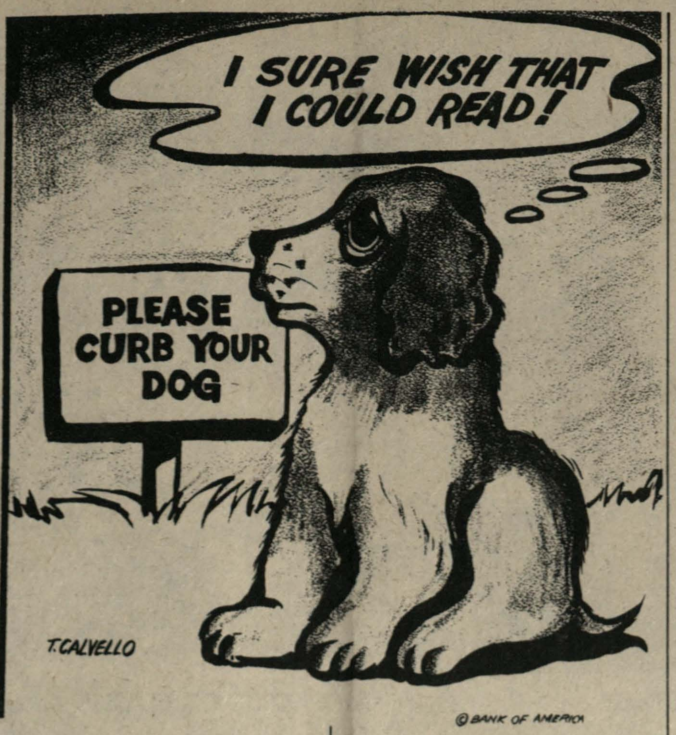
It was no easy matter for Barbara to get elected. The nominations were all ready closed so the only alternative was to have her as a "write in candidate". Barbara was at church passing out articles at 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. along with other volunteers.

It took many frozen fingers, early risers and late stayers to make sure Barbara had a fighting chance.

And now we are happy and proud to have her in the Parish Council as an active member.

Not only did she win, but received the highest amount of votes. This shows the energy and enthusiasm that today's youths can produce.

Respectfully submitted,
Mary Jo Weslow,
Member of the St.
Lucy's Youth Council



Asking a "NO" vote

EDITOR'S NOTE: At the request of the leaders in the movement to overrule a City Council zoning action in this city's first referendum election, next Tuesday, The Campbell Press presents a statement prepared by Jack Healey and Frank Klein, members of the Planning Commission who oppose the Council's action in rezoning a six-acre parcel adjacent to the Winchester Drive-in Theater. They are asking for a "NO" vote next Tuesday.

In an adjoining editorial, The Campbell Press maintains that the Council rezoning action should be upheld and urges a "YES" vote next Tuesday.....G. V.

The following statement presents the position of the proponents of the referendum in urging a no vote in the Dec. 8 election.

The position undertaken by the proponents of the referendum petition has not changed since the beginning and has gone unchallenged by the opposition. This position states that the zone change from R-3-S to M-1-S:

a. was not in accord with the General Plan adopted by the City Council.

b. was not in accord with the specific neighborhood plan adopted by the City Council.

c. was detrimental to the peace, and well-being of the citizens in the adjacent area.

The proponents of the petition were not unmindful of the serious nature of their action. However, the circumstances which brought it about were equally grave. Because of the lengthy hearings and intense interest which was evident, it was mandatory that the Council present substantial reasons in making a decision. There were no reasons given for the Council's decision.

This factor, in turn caused a letter to be written to the Council requesting that the reasons be stated. Rather than taking this opportunity to present their position, the Mayor chose to reply that the Council does not have to give reasons for their actions.

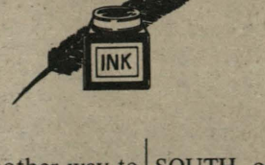
There has not been any change to the factual situation which existed then from what now exists regarding the Council's decision. Any reasons which are now being stated by the four campaigning Councilmen should have been stated at the time of their decision in Public Hearing. The Councilmen have not made any attempt to explain this delay in stating their position.

Until such time that a satisfactory explanation can be given for this delay, the reasons themselves are subject to question. Furthermore, the reasons now being given will not withstand close examination when compared with the Council meeting minutes.

We are confident that the voters of Campbell will rely on the facts of the situation and will not be stampeded into a decision based on fear.

Jack B. Healey
Frank R. Klein

Letters to the Editor



THIRD SCREEN ISSUE

Dear Editor:

In your recent editorial, you stated that if the referendum vote of Dec. 8 was successful in prohibiting the owner/developer of the property in question from building a third drive-in screen that this might be an infringement of his rights, that he might go to court, and that this legal action would be costly to Campbell taxpayers.

Members of the City of Campbell Administration have also expressed a similar opinion.

To begin with, the moment you write a law, the moment you establish a planning commission to set up zoning and building restrictions, you will inevitably infringe upon someone's individual rights. The reason is supposed to be for the COMMON good of the community.

When it was decided to close down the topless bars in Campbell, wasn't this an infringement of the rights of the individual bar owners as well as the people who wish to patronize such establishments?

When the Planning Commission makes decisions and restrictions as to the size of a business sign, isn't this an infringement of an individual businessman's rights?

When the Planning Commission states that my property is zoned single residential isn't this an infringement of my individual rights if I would like to operate some sort of business in my home—say a dress shop or beauty shop?

Doesn't the building code also prevent this? Even if I were to tear down my home and build a shop according to building codes wouldn't I still be restricted by the single residential zoning? Of course I would.

The reason for each of these restrictions is for the COMMON good of the community, which includes you and me.

The owner-developer of the property in question built the first drive-in screen against the wishes of both the Campbell Planning Commission and the Campbell Council members then in office, when the property was still County property.

He constructed the second drive-in screen while annexation of his property was being processed, and before the City of Campbell could exercise any control.

NOW, he wishes to build a third screen and the Campbell City Council (not the Planning Commission, however) seems to be going out of its way to accommodate him.

First, by passing an ordinance to change the zoning—then by lifting a regulation which prohibits construction of a drive-in screen within 1000 feet of a residential area.

The matter has been presented to the public as either of two choices, a third drive-in screen or a multiple-residential complex. Don't you think the rights of Campbell residents are being infringed upon by such "dense" development? After all, two drive-in screens on a piece of land-locked property should make a good return. Perhaps not the maximum return that the developer would like to reap, but is this the ONLY issue in this day of over use of environment and natural resources?

I believe that for you and for certain members of the Administration to emphasize the "cost" of a legal suit, if indeed the developer would sue, is an attempt to "strike home" at this time when taxpayers have received their increased property tax bills. I could suggest another way to save money—eliminate the Planning Commission.

After all, it is a group which consistently infringes upon individual rights. We might have a lot of law suits on our hands. Or do we call it infringement of individual rights only when it involves a well-to-do property owner?

Further savings to the taxpayers could also be found. For example, limit the number of councilmen who may travel at city taxpayer expense to meetings such as recently were held in San Diego. Instead of us taxpayers paying for five expense accounts, why not limit it to two by law?

I hope the voters of Campbell make themselves aware of what is going on. But at that, the Dec. 8 referendum vote doesn't give us much of a choice. Our area is fast becoming another Los Angeles.

Yours truly,
(Mrs.) Ann B. Pinkham
248 W. Ken Circle

SUPPORTS COUNCIL

Dear Editor,

I received a map along with the sample ballot concerning the property involved in Ordinance No. 739.

If the controversial M-1-S zoning is allowed to stand, there will be a third drive-in movie screen WEST of R-3-S residential property.

On the other hand if the property reverts back to R-3-S and is developed residential, the present screens will be SOUTH of residential property.

I fail to see any real difference whether a drive-in theater is WEST or SOUTH of residential property.

It seems to me that in the end the results are the same, whether you build a drive-in theater next to residential property or develop residential property next to a drive-in theater.

In any event they JOIN.

Since the councilmen are the duly elected representatives of Campbell, I feel morally obligated to support them, unless something is drastically wrong.

I believe they are right on this issue and this is why I lend my name to their support.

and Steinberg, along with Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, board president, ignored the finance committee's preliminary recommendation to dismiss the business manager and choose instead to demote Superintendent Neal Royer to principal on Oct. 8.

The demotion action by the three trustees gave added impetus to the recall movement. MacQuiddy is not subject to recall because he comes up for election again in April.

Two other recent actions by the split board are related to the financial picture of the district.

MacQuiddy, Steinberg and Mrs. Graham-Armstrong refused to accept the written resignations that had been submitted by three finance committee members, Ken Burmeister, chairman; Dr. Robert L. King and Hank Mestice. Trustees Judy Ruscigno and Jim Gilliland voted to accept the resignations. The board had previously voted unanimously to commend the committee for its work.

By a peculiar split vote (MacQuiddy and Steinberg abstaining) the board also refused to authorize a state audit of the district's books. Mrs. Graham-Armstrong cast the negative vote with Mrs. Ruscigno and Gilliland favoring the audit.

In addition to Burmeister, King and Mestice, other members of the Citizens Advisory Finance Committee are Ed Fabbri, Buck Austin, Gordon Abbott, and Mrs. Jeanette Watson.

their activities and claimed that the dangers from fireworks were far less than the fire people claimed.

Allan Blaine, president of the Campbell JayCees, said that his organization had not taken a position on the proposed ban and suggested a public hearing on the matter.

He added that he was concerned over problems that would arise over the enforcement of the ban and thought that present controls could be better than a total ban. He said that the JayCees derive about one-third of their total budget from the sale of fireworks.

George Baker, of 635 Chapman, claimed there was more involved than just the danger that the fireworks presented. He cited his experience in attempting to get recourse from fireworks companies because of faulty merchandise that had been sold. He also suggested that a public hearing be held.

Bids to go out for landscaping of civic center

"Meandering sidewalks" around the perimeter of the new civic center complex will be one of the features of the landscaping plan that has been approved by the City Council. It is now in the process of being prepared to go out to bids.

The city has budgeted approximately $40,000 for the project.

The landscaping plan, prior to Council approval, had been presented for review at a joint meeting of the Planning Commission, the Parks and Recreation Commission and the Citizens for Beautification.

The plan was developed by the landscaping architect, under the direction of Bill Hedley, architect for the entire civic center project. Hedley described the main points of the plan at the Council meeting before the city fathers gave the go ahead sign.

It was pointed out that the plan is in two phases, one between the property lines and the other in the parkway to the curbs, where the "meandering sidewalks" will be installed through the shrubbery.

Bill Wren, public works director, explained that funds for developing the parkway can be taken from gas tax or street improvement bond money.

One street bordering the city hall can be improved under the local imporvement district concept. The additional width for the parkways to allow the more attractive walkways is made possible, Wren added, by not widening the other streets. It is estimated that the parkway addition will cost about $8700.

The plan pinpoints the location of shrubbery and trees and specifies the number that will be planted.

In a related matter to the city hall development, the City Council on Tuesday night (after press time) was expected to approve the specifications for the draperies and carpets that will be put in the new building. It is estimated that this cost will total approximately $35,000.

BRONZE STAR

Army Staff Sergeant William W. Rose of San Jose, recently received the Bronze Star medal near Long Binh, Vietnam.

He was presented the Bronze Star medal for distinguishing himself through meritorious service in connection with military operations against hostile forces in Vietnam.

The 24-year-old soldier is a 1963 graduate of Leigh High School. His wife, Ceda, lives in Campbell.

W.V. journalists awarded prizes

West Valley College's student newspaper, the Norseman, captured high honors in the fall conference of the Journalism Association of Junior Colleges, Northern California section, held in November.

Anne Hunter, feature editor, of 719 Gail Ave., Sunnyvale, won a first prize trophy in the mail-in editorial competition and placed third in on-the-spot editorial writing, while photo editor John Howes, 1430 Rosalia Ave., San Jose, received the second place award in the photo journalism category.

The conference is an annual event in which community college journalists from throughout northern California gather to exchange ideas, compete against each other, listen to presentations by professional newsmen and participate in student seminars. This year's conference was sponsored by Foothill College.

The theme of the conference, "Today's Press in a Changing Society," was carried out in a series of presentations. Robert Glessing, author of the "Underground Press in America", spoke on underground media; student sessions on "The Campus Press" dealt with newspaper finance, sportswriting, student government - press relations, training the new reporter, photo-journalism, and student paper problems; and five experts in commercial journalism conducted a seminar on "The Establishment Press".

WESTMONT "A's"

According to Robert Culp, Principal of Westmont High School, the following students received straight "A" for the first quarter of the school year 1970-1971.

Seniors: Diana Allen, Ricky Anderson, Kelly Cullen, Stuart Gerould, Eliot Kalman, Elizabeth Keathley, Susan Loewus, Terrence McGaw, Nannette Newbury, Terry Turner, Jane Unger, Maureen Whitlock.

Freshmen: Catherine Alexander, Diane Donielson, Esther Eakin, Dorothy Marchesi, Cindy Martin, Ted Nelson, Margaret Van Klaveren.

Letters to the Editor

ON TOWING-AWAY

Editor's Note:

In a letter in The Campbell Press last week, the writer complained that her car had been towed away from the Campbell Shopping Center. She claimed she was a regular customer of the center. The following letter from the manager of Key Market explains that the market is not involved in the towing-away of cars.....G.V.

Dear Sir:

Please be informed that Key Market, 1711 Winchester Blvd. in the Campbell Shopping Center, is not having cars towed away from the Center parking lot.

In addition, I will arrange for the return of any towed vehicle without charge if the owner will present to me a cash register tape as proof of a purchase from Key Market on the day the car was towed away.

Very truly yours,
James Cangiamilla
Manager, Key Market
1711 Winchester Blvd.

COMMENDS ROYER

Dear Editor,

It is with deep regret that I have been following the course of events in Campbell—the course that has led to the disgraceful demotion of a fine man, Neal Royer.

That the trustees of the Campbell Elementary School District, the district where my children went to school for 25 years, and where I felt they were getting the best possible education, should see fit to serve such action on a man devoted to serving Campbell School District children, is a blow to the district.

Although we no longer reside in Campbell, we are still tax-payers in the district, and would like to add our names to those who deplore the Campbell Elementary School District trustee actions. If possible we want to add our names to the recall petition, and certainly add our names to those who support a trustworthy, honest, dependable man.

In these days of "politicians" the trustees should be thankful for the services of a man like Mr. Royer.

Sincerely,
Chester M. and
Frances R. Clever

League seeks team managers

Campbell-Moreland Pony League has announced that it is accepting applications for team managers for the 1971 season through Dec. 1.

Men who are interested in running a Pony League team (boys 13-14 years who play full baseball rules on a medium size diamond) should send a letter stating their qualifications to C-M Pony League, P. O. Box 9401, San Jose, 95117, attention Les Baldinger, no later than Dec. 1. Interviews will be held in early January.

Anyone interested in participating in the League is urged to drop by Rincon Park in Campbell any Saturday morning and watch the winter-instructional league in action.

Darting Around

SINGLES TOURNAMENT

Twenty-eight top dart players representing the seven leagues of the Northern California Darts Assn. met Sunday, Nov. 22 at the Steppenwolf, 2136 San Pablo Ave. in Berkeley. The occasion was the finals for the Singles Championship of NCDA.

Each league sent its top four darters, determined in preliminary tournaments held Oct. 28.

The South Bay League was represented by Jack Mehtala of the Scuttlebutt, Don Rhodes of the Lancashire Lad I, Jim Macredes of the Gaslighter Theater I and Bob Mayer of Lancashire Lad II. Mehtala was defeated in the first round by Dick Killian of Abbey Tavern II, 4100 Geary Blvd., San Francisco.

Bob Mayer drew a bye on the first round and lost the second round match to Pete Peters of Blind Lemon I, 2362 San Pablo, Berkeley. Pete went on to take seventh place or third alternate for the All-Star team.

SCORING

Scoring in all matches of the NCDA is on the "double in, double out" system. That is scoring doesn't start until you shoot a double. The double area is the outer narrow band on the dart board.

The narrow band half way in, is the triple area. The center bulls-eye counts 50 points and the outer area of the bulls-eye counts 25 points. The score starts at 301 and works down. The last dart thrown must be a double. Therefore, if you have 12 left you shoot for the double 6. Should you just get a 6 you then shoot a double 3. The odd number 3 puts you in a precarious position. The only way out is to shoot a 1 double 1 or go bust. This should help the un-initiated understand the descriptions of some of the games that follow.

JIM MACREDES

The Gaslighter Theater's Jim Macredes drew NCDA competition secretary Bob Hughes for the first round. Bob plays for the Stop Sign Sudden Stops, 3924 Telegraph Ave., Oakland. Jim beat Bob two straight taking the first game in 16 darts with a 60 out (20, double 20). The match in each round was two out of three games.

In the second round Jim played Larry Beekley of the Lord Nelson Huzzahs, 970 Sutter St., San Francisco. They split the first two games with Jim "skunking" Larry in the third. The third round saw Jim defeated by Ron Rutherford of Swinging Door III, 106 E. 25th Ave., San Mateo.

DON RHODES

Don Rhodes of Lancashire Lad I defeated Bob Poling of the Say When Coyotes, 24740 Hesperian Blvd., Hayward. Splitting the first two Don had trouble getting in on the last game. He took 13 darts to get started but did it with a 98 away, followed it with a ton (100) and went out on 40 the hard way (5-19-double 8) in 15 darts after he got on.

Don then defeated Ray Rahmer of the Gay 90's, 3411 N. Main, Pleasant Hill, and Ron Patanaude of Mayflower Inn III, 1533 Fourth St., San Rafael. Don was now pitted against Ron Rutherford for the semi-final. Don won this round in three tightly contested games.

In the other semi-final match Tony Chevarria of the Courtyard II Prosecutors dueled Gary Curtaz of the Bull and Bush III, 5024 Geary Blvd., San Francisco. Tony won two straight with the second game won in 11 darts.

Tony's scoring was a 47 away, a ton, 118 leaving 36 or double 18 for the out.

FINAL MATCH

The final match for the championship saw the South Bay League's Don Rhodes pitted against the Bridge League's Tony Chevarria.

Tony annihilated Don in the first game in 17 darts going out with 44 (12, double 16). Don countered and took the second game. Now the pressure was on for the final game.

Tony started off with 42 away, Don countered with a 41 away. Twelve darts later they are both shooting for the double out. Tony wires the outside on the double 16. Don goes bust on the double 8. Tony goes bust. Don puts all three darts on the outside. Tony gets 8 leaving 8 or double 4. Don goes bust.

All three of Tony's darts are on the outside. Don busts again. Tony hits a 4 leaving 4 or double 2 duce. This time Don hits the 8. Tony's first dart hit the 2, the second dart goes into the double one for the game (32 darts).

The NCDA Singles Champion is Tony Chevarria with Don Rhodes, second; Gary Curtaz third; Ron Rutherford, fourth; Stan Brassey of Mayflower Inn I, first alternate and Jim Macredes, second alternate.

League teams play on Thanksgiving Day

LOS GATOS 27 - CAMPBELL 19

For the first time in six years, Los Gatos High School Wildcats on Thanksgiving Day defeated Campbell High.

The Wildcats scored a clean-cut 27-19 victory on the Campbell field in the 37th annual renewal of the gridiron rivalry between the two schools.

By winning, Los Gatos picked up fourth place in the West Valley League with a 6-3 record. Both teams had 5-3 records going into the final game.

Although the Wildcats came out on top for the first time since 1964, they still hold a 21-14-2 lead in the long gridiron series between the two schools.

Campbell gamely made a tight ball game out of this year's Turkey Day classic from start to finish. The Bucs had one scoring drive halted on the Wildcat 14-yard line by an interception and another on the 12-yard line by downs.

The final Los Gatos score came with just 45 seconds to go when Glen Williams of Los Gatos grabbed off an "air fumble" from Steve Davis and then galloped 45-yards to a touchdown.

The Wildcats tallied their first score in the first period on a 97-yard pass play. The 'Cats struck on the next play after they had been pushed back to their third yard line on a fumble which luckily they recovered instead of the Bucs.

Davis scored two touchdowns for Campbell while Sam Lobue went over for the other score by grabbing a 32-yard pass from Joe Alvarez.

LEIGH 54 - WESTMONT 6

Leigh High, West Valley League champs, slaughtered Westmont 54-6 on Thanksgiving Day and will meet Hill this Saturday, Dec. 5, in the semi-final game of the Santa Clara County leagues' playoffs.

Leigh should be favored, as early in the season, Westmont lost to Hill 20-14. Westmont wound up the season without a win, while Leigh has yet to be defeated. Hill is Mount Hamilton League champs.

Pete Davis, a sophomore, and Craig Chelonis, a senior, accounted for 173 yards for Westmont in the passing department with Chelonis connecting on a 64-yard screen pass to Dave Gillispie for Westmont's lone score.

Despite the high score, Mitch Vierra had a good day for Westmont, intercepting two passes and recovering a fumble.

DEL MAR 14 - CAMDEN 0

Del Mar posted a 14-0 Thanksgiving Day victory over Camden to mark up the Don's third win in the 12-year old rivalry.

In the first period, Tom Murison of Del Mar scooped up a Camden fumble and ran 66 yards for the Don's first score.

In the final three minutes, Dave Hamilton punched over from the one-yard line.

SARATOGA 12 - BLACKFORD 7

Saratoga beat Blackford 12-7 on Thanksgiving Day to end the season with an 8-1 league mark in a game that defense played the major part.

Jim Ainlay, of Saratoga, was outstanding on defense while Mark Fanning shone as a ball-carrier.

BRANHAM 34 - PROSPECT 6

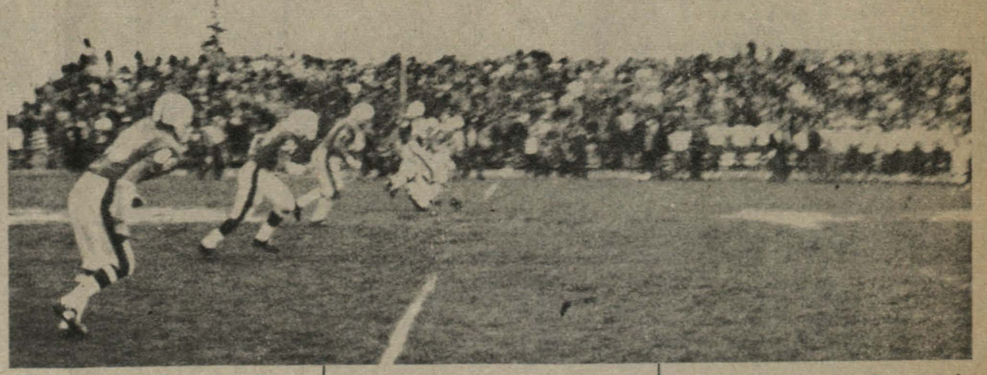
Branham scooted by Prospect 34-6 in the third annual Turkey Day battle between the two schools.

Jeff Ginrich, Branham's quarterback, directed all five of his team's touchdowns and picked up 41 yards on 11 keepers. But during the afternoon he was dropped twice behind the line by Art Taylor for a total loss of 18 yards.

Prospect scored from a yard out in the first quarter with Craig Lawson going over after a 59-yard march after the opening kickoff.

Dave Williams and Ron Helmonds were a big help on the drive with their excellent blocking.

But after that flurry, Branham had things pretty much its own way during the rest of the contest.



KICKOFF—Campbell High Bucs kicked off to start things going in the 37th annual meeting on Thanksgiving Day between Los Gatos and Campbell. The Bucs were doing well until the Wildcats connected with a pass on their three-yard line five minutes after the game started, and went all the way to score. The final score was 27-19.

Store offers safety brochures

The booklets, produced in color by the Schwinn Cycle Co. illustrate the 12 rules of the road for bicycle riders as well as safety tips on bicycle care.

An illustrated booklet giving complete instructions on recommended rules for bicycle safety is available free of charge at the Wheel-Away Cycle Center, 402 E. Hamilton Ave., according to Jerry Bernstein, manager.

SEAL COLONY

In the early nineteenth century, Russian sealers exterminated the fur seal colony living on the Farrallon Islands about 30 miles off San Francisco, killing 200,000 in a three-year period.

ORDINANCE NO. 755

BEING AN ORDINANCE OF CITY OF CAMPBELL APPROVING THE ANNEXATION OF CERTAIN CONTIGUOUS UNINHABITED TERRITORY TO CITY OF CAMPBELL, MUNICIPAL CORPORATION, DESIGNATED AS WHITE OAKS 1970-5 ANNEXATION TO THE CITY OF CAMPBELL, IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS OF SECTIONS 35300 ET SEQ., 35310 ET SEQ., AND 54797.1 OF THE GOVERNMENT CODE OF CALIFORNIA.

WHEREAS, the City Council of City of Campbell, California did heretofore on the 28th day of September, 1970, initiate proceedings for the annexation of certain uninhabited territory contiguous to the boundaries of City of Campbell pursuant to Sections 35300 et seq., 35310 et seq., and 54797.1 of the Government Code; and

WHEREAS, said action by the City Council was supported by the written petition from the owners of all of the area and of the assessed value of all of the lands proposed to be annexed; and

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Campbell did, on the 28th day of September, 1970, pass and adopt its Resolution of Intention to Annex said uninhabited territory, hereinafter described in Exhibit "A" which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, lying outside of and being contiguous to the boundaries of the City of Campbell.

WHEREAS, the said Resolution was duly, regularly and lawfully published one time in The Campbell Press, a newspaper of general circulation, published in the City of Campbell, proof of the publisher on file with the City Clerk of Campbell; and

WHEREAS, true copies of said Resolution and Notice were duly and regularly mailed by said City Clerk to each property owner in said area proposed to be annexed as shown by the last equalized provisions of Section 35311 of the Government Code of California, as amended, and all other requirements of said Government Code with respect to the annexation of uninhabited territory having been complied with; and,

WHEREAS, the City Council finds that the territory proposed to be annexed is contiguous to the boundaries of the City of Campbell, and that the same is uninhabited territory as defined by said Government Code of California, and that the annexation of the same would be for the best interest and general welfare of the people of the City of Campbell; and

WHEREAS, all of the said territory is within the boundaries of Central Fire Protection District of the County of Santa Clara, State of California, and that it is for the best interest of the people of the City of Campbell that said lands described in Exhibit "A" which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, be withdrawn from said district.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CAMPBELL DOES HEREBY ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. That the annexation of the uninhabited territory described in Exhibit "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof, be and the same is hereby annexed to the City of Campbell; and that the territory affected by this approval and the proceedings heretofore had shall be commonly known as WHITE OAKS 1970-5 Annexation to the City of Campbell.

SECTION 2. That all of the lands, described in Exhibit "A" entitled "WHITE OAKS 1970-5 Annexation to the City of Campbell" which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, be and the same are hereby withdrawn from Central Fire Protection District of the County of Santa Clara, State of California, and that an appropriate resolution be adopted withdrawing the same in accordance with the provisions of Section 14540 of the Health and Safety Code of the State of California.

SECTION 3. Pursuant to the provisions of the said Government Code of California, the City Clerk shall and she is hereby directed to file with the Secretary of State of California a certified copy of this ordinance immediately upon the said ordinance becoming effective.

SECTION 4. The City Clerk is hereby ordered and directed to file with the office of the Recorder of the County of Santa Clara, in which the City of Campbell, a municipal corporation, is located, an affidavit stating that all requirements of the law pertaining to such proceedings for annexation have been complied with. Be it further provided that this affidavit shall be accompanied by a certified copy of boundary description as set forth in the annexation proceedings and also by a map delineating such boundaries.

SECTION 5. That all expense of proceedings for the annexation of the said uninhabited territory be paid, and the sums be, and they are hereby allowed.

Support Your City Council........

Why?

Because... AFTER INTENSIVE STUDY, YOUR ELECTED REPRESENTATIVES RECOMMENDED THAT THE PROPERTY IN QUESTION WAS TOTALLY UNSUITABLE FOR BUILDING 224 UNITS OF APARTMENTS. THESE COUNCILMEN REALIZED THAT HOUSING 1000 PEOPLE IN AN AREA WITH NO SAFE ACCESS ROAD WOULD BE A MISTAKE.

Because... THE COUNCILMEN THEREFORE DETERMINED THAT EXISTING R3 ZONING WAS UNJUST AND UNSAFE AND RECOMMENDED A CHANGEOVER TO M1S ZONING WHICH WOULD PROVIDE THE ONLY SENSIBLE UTILIZATION OF THE LAND.

Because... THE COUNCILMEN ARE UPHOLDING THE BASIC CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS OF A LANDOWNER TO DEVELOP HIS PROPERTY.

Because... THE COUNCILMEN, YOUR ELECTED REPRESENTATIVES, REALIZE THAT DENYING A LANDOWNER HIS LEGITIMATE RIGHTS OF DEVELOPMENT COULD RESULT IN A COSTLY LAWSUIT ULTIMATELY PAID FOR BY THE CITIZENS OF CAMPBELL IN THE FORM OF HIGHER TAXES.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS

by Louis Zurlo

At our monthly meeting, which was held at Argonaut School on Nov. 18, the El Sereno 4-H Club had its annual potluck and achievement night.

During the meeting, following the potluck, we had reports on our annual clean-up committee in which, every year, we get together and clean up the grounds of our meeting place. We also had reports on our float committee and Christmas party committee.

After the meeting we had handing out of awards. All older members received year stripes and pins. The Bronze Star rank was awarded to Linda Chamberlin, Randy Cone, Glenn Greene, Chuck Herman, Steve Knapp, Anthony and Bernadette Montalbono, Beth and Janet Snause, and Richard Zurlo.

Kris Mason and Richard Zurlo received a Jr. Leader certificate. Other awards given were county awards, 100% attendance pins and officer pins.

FIRST CERTIFICATE AWARDED--George Miller, left, coordinator of real estate education at West Valley College, and James P. Hardy, superintendent-president of the college, award the college's first California Real Estate Certificate to Pat Loman, San Jose mortgage broker and real estate appraiser. Loman was the first student at West Valley to complete course requirements for the certificate.

Father of five celebrates 90th

A surprise birthday party was held recently for Harvey E. Borden, father of Mrs. Lois Kramer of Campbell.

Borden celebrated his 90th birthday at First Church of the Nazarene in San Jose and was greeted by 26 friends and relatives.

Born in Wisconsin, Borden came to Calfiornia in 1940 and currently lives alone in San Jose.

Father of five children, Borden learned just days before his birthday that he now has 10 great-grandchildren. He has nine grandchildren.

He has three sons, Dale Borden, a principal in Vacaville; Neil Borden, a music teacher in Napa and Glen, an attorney in Illinois.

Another daughter, Mrs. Lester Chase, resides in Oregon.

Traditional "Yuletide at Montalvo" is unusual opportunity and experience

"Twas The Night Before Christmas" and all through the halls of Villa Montalvo in Saratoga excitement is mounting as the time nears for the carved entrance doors to swing open on the 11th annual "Yuletide at Montalvo."

Set for Dec. 4, 5 and 6, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., this magnificent Christmas tea and exhibit is designed to bring a sparkle to the eyes of young and the young in heart. The legendary Villa, in its tree-studded setting, will be crammed with creations donated by area artists and craftsmen.

Since its inception, Yuletide has become a much looked forward to holiday event in the Bay Area, drawing over 5000 enthusiastic viewers last year.

Traditional colors of red and white will be used throughout with holiday greenery lending its fragrant touch. Greeting arriving guests in the grand entry hall with its exquisite hand-carved staircase will be large, hanging, stitchery ornaments.

To the merriment, a huge snowman will stand silently, while the staircase will be festooned with garlands of ribbon and greenery. Red tablecloths will grace the exhibit tables and the graceful French windows will have draperies of the same fabric.

In the West Gallery, a handsome table setting in reds and golds, created by members of the Service Group, and complete with tablecloth, centerpiece, dishes, glasses and napkins, will be featured.

The glass-walled solarium will play host to a "Storybook Tree", decorated with handcrafted ornaments of storybook characters which have been created by artist Teddi Stavrum.

An elegant tea will be served continuously during the three days of the event in the fabled dining room where President Franklin D. Roosevelt and poet Edwin Markham once were honored guests.

The fireplace in the main gallery will be decorated in an old fashioned manner, replete with waiting stockings, and there to greet the arrival of Old Saint Nick himself will be Raggedy Ann and Andy, along with their companions from Storyland.

The charming, octagonal Carriage House, which has been converted into a fine theater, will glisten and gleam in the myriad mirrors used in the decor, reflecting all the sparkling exhibits and decorations.

In keeping with the theme of "Visions of Sugarplums", sprays of white manzanita dusted with silver sparkle and adorned with sugarplums will be scattered throughout.

Members of the Junior Service Group will be costumed as nutcracker characters and will serve with the Senior Service Group members as salesladies, cashiers and hostesses.

Items created in the Montalvo workshops will be offered for sale in the Carriage House and include children's toys and clothing, hand-decorated candlesticks, garden boutique items, pillows, tote bags, jewelry, stitchery, ornaments, baked goods, and candles. A special exhibit and sale of the beautifully executed ceramics of Trent Thompson will also be featured.

Villa Montalvo, the former home of Senator James D. Phelan and now a center for the arts, is located on Saratoga-Los Gatos Rd., about one-half mile from the center of the town of Saratoga.

Tickets at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children are available at the door. A shuttle bus service from the gates and the various parking lots will be furnished. All proceeds go for maintenance and restoration of the Villa.

The star above the griffin-guarded gates will be the guide to a beautiful pre-holiday experience.

TO BE GIVEN AWAY--This lovely table setting will be awarded to one of the spectators at Villa Montalvo's traditional Yuletide exhibit. Putting the finishing touches on the setting are Mrs. Walter McMillan, sewing chairman, Mrs. Merrill Skidmore, exhibit chairman and Mrs. Russel Goldensmith, creative ideas committee.

PHARMACY PHACTS

PARTY PLANS--Danny Fischer, 6 ½, of 634 Ginden Dr., is proud to be able to stuff stockings which are going to be given children at a Sunday party being planned by Parents of Children with Neurological Defects. Parents wishing to know more about the group should call his mother, Mrs. Paul Fischer, 378-1077.

Handicapped invited to party

Parents with children suffering from hydrocephalus, myelomeningocele and other neurological defects are invited to bring them to a Christmas party Sunday (Dec. 6) from 1:30 until 4 p.m. at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, 15885 Los Gatos-Almaden Rd., it was announced today by Mrs. Paul Fischer of Campbell.

Mrs. Fischer is chairman of Parents of Children with Neurological Defects, a self-help group organized several years ago under sponsorship of The National Foundation-March of Dimes. The group has regular meetings, on the second Tuesday of each month, at Stanford. Advisor is Dr. Luigi Luzzatti of The National Foundation-March of Dimes Birth Defects Clinic at Stanford.

Parents who would like to know more about the Christmas party or the organization should call Mrs. Fischer, 378-1077.

Paul Page featured in concert at St. Lucy's

Sunday, Dec. 6 at 2:30 p.m., St. Lucy's Parish Council will present an afternoon of music with Paul F. Page, a young Marin County composer, featuring his own compositions for piano and violin.

The concert will be held in St. Lucy's Church on Winchester Blvd. in Campbell. Admission is $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students. The program will include ballet music from Page's new "Kaleidescope-Variations on a Dream", "Collage Chaminade" as well as Kreissler's "Praeludium and Allegro". A well-rounded program is prepared, appealing to all who have ever heard and seen Page's outstanding performances.

Though still in his early twenties, Page has been an active and dynamic composer for several years. A native of San Francisco, now living in Marin County, he has composed music for various churches in the area and around the country, is currently music director and organist at St. Lucy's.

He also writes popular songs and ballads and has composed four ballets, two of which were premiered last December at Dominican College in San Rafael. Two more ballets are scheduled for a Spring performance with the Joan Edgerton Gabert School of Classic Ballet in San Rafael.

In this presentation at St. Lucy's, Page will be assisted by Mark Jordan, an accomplished young violinist from San Rafael, winner of the Marin Music Chest Scholarship in 1969 and 1970 as well as the winner of the Maurice Wilk Memorial Scholarship and the San Francisco Conservatory Chamber Music Scholarship. Presently, young Jordan is the Concertmaster of the Dominican College Orchestra and will perform the Mendelsshon Violin Concerto with them in the Spring.

PAUL PAGE

Tickets for this performance may be obtained by contacting St. Lucy's Rectory, 2350 Winchester Blvd. (378-2464). Tickets also will be available at the door on Dec. 6.

Artists plan holiday show

Bea Griffin, director of the Creative Artists Group, announced that the group has planned a holiday art exhibit on Dec. 4. 5 and 6 at Civic Plaza Mall in Santa Clara.

Fifty artists and craftsmen have already registered as participants, representing professional artists, art teachers, metal sculptors, potters, leather and jewelry craftsmen, photographers, candlemakers, ceramics artists and glass craftsmen.

A best of show painting by Elsa Schaller will be on display, as well as other award-winning exhibits.

Anyone wishing further information should call Mrs. Griffin, 379-9268 or Beverly Pinkerton, 867-0612.

Garden club has annual tea

The annual Christmas tea of the Campbell Garden Club will be held Wednesday, Dec. 9, at 1 p.m. at the Congregational Church, 400 W. Campbell Ave.

Entertainment is planned by the "Cunningham, Swingers."

Chairman for the afternoon is Mrs. Rose Magnasco. Assisting her will be Mrs. Jane Fursh, Janet Kelly, Mildred Coughlin and Mary La Rocca.

Guests are invited and prospective members are urged to call Mrs. George Kolze, membership chairman, 378-8897.

LEGION AUXILIARY

American Legion Auxiliary 158 West Valley, will hold its monthly card party on Monday, Dec. 7 at 1 p.m. at the Post Hall on Dell Ave.

SONS OF NORWAY

Sons of Norway Lodge will hold its 22nd annual Lutefisk Christmas Party on Saturday, Dec. 5 from 5 to 8 p.m. at 1401 E. Santa Clara St., San Jose. For information, call Mr. Bjerkhoel, 371-0288.

BPW gets lesson in self-defense

Campbell Business and Professional Women recently sponsored a program on self defense at the council chambers of the City of Campbell.

Agent Robert Mann and Officer John Rapp of the Campbell Police Department presented a program designed to show women how to protect themselves and their homes in emergencies.

An expert in self defense techniques for women, Sensay Song, demonstrated ways in which ladies could protect themselves. Song, a graduate of University of Yonsei, Seoul, Korea, arrived in the United States about six weeks ago. He had an academy in self-defense at the United Nations Village in Seoul and plans to start classes for women in the area.

Sweet Adelines sing for charity

Flappers bootlin' bootleg gin will bring the Roarin' '20's alive again at 8 p.m., Dec. 12 in Palo Alto's Gunn High School auditorium, when the barber shop harmony chorus of the San Jose Chapter of Sweet Adelines presents their highly successful musical, "The Sing-di-cate" under the auspices of the Peninsula Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

Two Campbellites are members of the Adelines; Lois Learned, 395 Richlee, and Mrs. Fritz Buell, 410 Milton, will be participating.

The show played to SRO audience in October and the local Cystic Fibrosis Chapter decided to re-create this family show as their major fund-raising event of the year.

All proceeds from the show will go for C.F. Research and tickets are available through the Sweet Adelines; the C.F. Post Office Box 4062, Blossom Valley Station, Mt. View, or by calling 734-4312.

Hospital asks community to open house tour

Campbell Community Hospital is opening its doors to the community on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 16, to acquaint the public with its facilities.

The entire staff of the hospital, along with the auxiliary, is participating in the day's planning under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jack Cava, R.N., a member of the staff.

Plans are, according to Mrs. Cava, to invite city officials, doctors and their wives and office staffs, as well as the general public, to attend from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Guided tours of the hospital and its equipment will be conducted and refreshments will be served.

Around and About

VIOLET CLUB

The Dec. 7 meeting of the Santa Clara Valley African Violet Club will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Oliver W. Schantz, 1155 Lone Pine Lane, San Jose, at one o'clock.

Mrs. Schantz will host a Christmas Tea and gift exchange.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA

Gamma Omega chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, International Honor Society of Women Teachers, will hold a Christmas luncheon on Dec. 5, at the Hacienda Inn, 18840 Saratoga-Los Gatos Rd., Los Gatos at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Ruth Leland, president of Gamma Omega, and a teacher at the San Tomas School, Campbell, will entertain members and invited guests with a dramatic reading of Joseph Henry Jackson's "The Christmas Flower".

FRIENDS OUTSIDE

"The Shape Of Things", located in Old Town, Los Gatos, will hold a Christmas auction and bazaar for the benefit of Friends Outside on Thursday, Dec. 10 at 7 p.m.

Framed paintings, valued from $14 to $150 will be auctioned off and prizes will be offered. Christmas giftware, including hand blown glass, pottery and candles will be on display.

TREES ARE IN

Jack Christian, chairman of St. Lucy's Church Christmas tree sales, announced that the trees have arrived at the church lot in front of the parish hall, 2350 Winchester Blvd. Proceeds will benefit the church school.

Spaghetti feed will benefit youth council

A spaghetti feed with proceeds to benefit a ski trip is planned by St. Lucy's Youth Council.

The young people will host the feed in Kennelly Hall at St. Lucy's Church on Fri., Dec. 11 from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Menu will include spaghetti, bread sticks, salad and beverage.

Prices for adults is $1.25 and for children, 75¢. Tickets are on sale after all masses or may be obtained by calling Jim Hillier, 378-7593 or Fred Pennewell, 378-1810.

PruneYard art exhibit begins

Campbell Artist's Guild will have a juried art show and sale at the PruneYard shopping center Dec. 7 through 12.

Theme of the show is "Feliz Navidad".

The exhibit will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and until 9 p.m. Saturday hours will be 9 to 5.

The PruneYard is located at Campbell and Bascom Avenues.

Jennifer Wills

Jennifer Anne Wills, born November 20 at Good Samaritan Hospital, was christened last Sunday at St. Frances Cabrini Church.

Present for the event were her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Giordano of Fresno and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Grimes of Fresno.

Godparents for little Miss Wills were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin of Santa Cruz.

Jennifer's proud mom and pop are Chuck and Julie Wills of Rebel Way.

Altar society has pot luck

St. Lucy's Altar Society will have their annual potluck luncheon on Thursday, Dec. 3, at 12 noon in the church annex.

Entertainment will be provided by the students of St. Lucy's School.

The committee for the day will be headed by Mrs. Roy Anderson, with assistance from Mrs. Stanley Chelberg, Mrs. Jerry Kay, Mrs. Carl Magnasco, Mrs. Frances Moore and Mrs. John Murphy.

Moreland offers free textbooks

Residents of the Moreland School District may come to the Instructional Materials Center, 4710 Campbell Ave., on Monday, Dec. 7, between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. and take their choice, free of charge, of old school textbooks discarded because they are worn, torn or obsoleted by new state textbook adoptions. Mr. Jerry Thornton, coordinator of Instruction Materials, said distribution is limited to school district residents only on a first-come, first-served basis.

CAMPBELL
M C s b E L R A

By Dawn Stoudinger

While I was snooping through some papers in my Journalism IV class, I came across a couple of short stories and poems, that I really thought should be seen by others.

I think some of these people should be recognized for their talent of putting down their thoughts and opinions on certain subjects. So I decided to share with you a few of these works, I feel, are of really good writing.

The first writing is a short story by Florence Clapes, a junior girl at Campbell High.

I remember that night. It was mid-winter a year ago. The sky was black, threatening rain and the wind was blowing the trees over double.

I was sitting home alone, dreaming by the fire, when he came in.

"Hello." he said, sitting in a chair beside me. I looked at him a moment, seeing how his black hair was all tossed up by the wind and his cheeks were flushed red. He was wearing the coat I gave him for Christmas and his oldest pair of jeans.

"You're leaving?" I asked, looking back at the fire.

"Yes, on the next plane. I came to say good-bye."

"Where will they send you?" The flames glowed hot on the logs, but I remember feeling cold as he answered.

"Vietnam." He shifted in his chair so he was looking at me instead of the fire.

Then, we talked. We talked till he had to go catch his plane. I don't remember what we said, but I remember how it rained. It started out real soft, then slowly built itself up into a storm, battering down on the house as we talked.

Now, whenever I think of him I remember how he looked that last night, with his hair all tossed, and I remember our little fire, glowing so warmly as the rain came down around us. I'll never see him again, but still I don't cry with the rain, I only remember.

* * *

When I asked Florence why she wrote this story, she replied, "I wanted to express my feelings on Vietnam. If you write up a list of what you feel people don't listen. You have to tell them in a way they'll understand."

She feels that you have more control over how people will react with a story.

"In poetry, you are interested in different ways by different people. I want to tell what I see in words not in symbols," she added.

Myself, I have always had to be in moods to write, so I wondered if others felt the same way. Florence told me that she can write a story in any mood and the story reflects her mood. Sometimes she gets into the mood as she writes.

When asked if she felt writing was an outlet of emotion, she commented, "Yes, definitely. I can't go for long without writing something. Sometimes it comes on me when I'm bored—then nothing will drag me away till I've written all I want to."

Last of all I asked her what her explanation of the story was and she confided, "I could tell you that best by telling you the story all over again. It's what is happening all over the U.S. right now. I just put it down in my own words."

* * *

The next writing is a poem called "Deadly Haze", by Cathy Anderson, a sophomore.

The once-crystal blue skies now are plagued with a yellow haze.

It isn't a melted sun or some artist's idea of fun.

It's smog and its deadly.

It kills very slowly and with tremendous pain.

You breathe that yellow smoke and you choke.

Soon, in ten or twenty years, you won't be able to breathe.

The yellow haze will have turned into a fine, brown dust, like breathing dirt.

You smother.

You die."

Cathy mainly writes for enjoyment. When I asked her if she felt there were thoughts that must be said or recognized, she said, "Yes, just like facts of every day living. The ruts people get into—how we live and love. Also social and racial put-downs."

Like Florence, Cathy feels that writing is an outlet of emotion.

I then decided to ask someone else their explanation of Cathy's poem. David Rosenthal, a junior, expressed his thoughts in this way:

"The destruction and doom of men is coming very soon because of the environmental crisis. No doubt about it, it gets the point across. The author of the poem definitely wants people to become aware of this problem.

"Pollution is one of those things that everybody talks about and does something about,--like contributes to it!"

I hope you have enjoyed these two writings.

Students - business discussion yields many common goals

A student-businessman get-together titled "Completely Spontaneous" was held recently in the Community Room at Colonial Savings and Loan Association.

HOW I FEEL--Demonstrating their feelings on many subjects, students and Campbell business leaders listen as student Jeff Garetts (center) tells Norm Paul, left and Chris Steet, about his ideas. The two hour discussion held between students and civic leaders was sponsored by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Participating in the round table discussion were five members of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and five West Valley College students who spent an informal two hours in discussing ecology, drugs, occupations, making money and Youth versus Parents.

From the college were Jeff Garetts, Chris Steet, Jozsef Megyeri, Britt Tigan, and Bob Scarbrough. Businessmen taking part in the discussion were Lowell Grattan, Norm Paul, Tom Snowden, Tom State, Jim Schafer and Bob Peck.

Arrangements were made by Mrs. Mary Ann Peborgh, Dean of Student Activities at West Valley and Len Edholm, chamber manager.

Finding that both groups face similar problems and have similar goals, the group scheduled a second meeting for Tuesday, Dec. 8, from 3 to 5 p.m.

First installment of county taxes comes due on Dec. 10th

The Tax Collector's Office, 70 W. Hedding St., San Jose, under L. E. Engeman, assistant finance director, still has some tax bills which have not been claimed. These bills either have no mailing address or have been returned undelivered by the Post Office. Failure to receive a tax bill does not relieve the property owner from the payment of a penalty if the taxes become delinquent, Engeman pointed out.

Senior citizens planning to file for the property tax assistance from the Franchise Tax Board between May 16, 1971 and Aug. 31, 1971, are warned that their taxes must be paid first to be eligible.

The Franchise Tax Board will distribute claim forms in March of 1971 for this assistance that will apply if the property owner is over 65 years of age and has a household income of $3,350 or less for the calendar year 1970.

The first installment on Santa Clara County taxes must be paid by Thursday, Dec. 10 to avoid a six percent penalty. This warning came from Edward N. Glaeser, finance director, who added that last year tardy taxpayers paid nearly a quarter of a million dollars because their first installment real estate tax payments were late.

To be certain that the payment is made before the deadline, Glaeser suggests they be taken to the nearest post office to insure a postmark on or prior to Dec. 10. Depositing the payment in a corner mailbox does not necessarily mean it will be postmarked before the delinquent date.

Parapsychology series offered at college

West Valley College will offer a four session forum on new discoveries in extra sensory perception beginning Dec. 7.

The "Parapsychology Forum" will run four consecutive nights, Dec. 7-10, with leading figures in the field conducting each session of the forum.

On Dec. 7, Alexander Everett, president of Mind Dynamics Inc., will discuss the "Alpha Rhythm of the Brain." "Altered States of Consciousness" will be discussed Dec. 8 by James Fadiman, lecturer in social psychology at the University of California and senior counselor at Stanford University.

Hugh Lynn Cayce, son of the famed American telepathist Edgar Cayce, and a well known lecturer, author and investigator of psychic phenomena will discuss "Your Fabulous Unconscious", Dec. 9. "Parapsychology, 1970" will be the topic Dec. 10 for Dr. Arthur Hastings, assistant professor of public address in the Department of Speech, Stanford University.

Interested participants in the forum must register at the Office of Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26, telephone 379-1733, ext. 58.

Due to limited space, registrations will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis with the residents of the West Valley district given first priority.

Letters to the Editor

SUPPORTS ROYER

Dear George,

Although, regrettably, I live just outside the Campbell Union Elementary School District boundaries, I have been associated with its operations for the past 21 years in several ways.

Under the leadership of retired Supt. Bill Henley, supported by his assistant Neal Royer, who stepped up to the superintendent's post in 1964, the district has created an outstanding record of service to the Campbell community.

When, all around, other districts were on double sessions, Campbell's educational leaders were able to construct facilities and hire teachers with a minimum of inconvenience to pupils and parents. The CUSD teachers are an outstanding group of people—a large number of whom were personally selected by Royer.

Therefore, it came as a distinct shock to me when the "freshman" members of the CUSD board mustered enough votes to summarily DUMP Royer as superintendent. Especially as they apparently have very little to support such untimely action.

So, I wish to commend you, George, on your forthright stand in favor of Royer and against the action of the CUSD board majority, plus your position on a recall action. In this way, I go on record as a staunch supporter of Neal Royer in this unfortunate affair.

Sincerely,
Clifford T. Cassiday

Wildcat train becomes one-day school house

Oak Meadow Park, Los Gatos was an outdoor classroom recently for 800 elementary school kids, teachers and parents, who were guests of the local park department and volunteers of the Billy Jones Wildcat Railroad.

Los Gatos Park Department employees took time out from their busy fall maintenance work to give demonstrations in safety, tree climbing and ecology to youngsters, ranging in academic status from pre-schoolers to fifth graders.

Volunteer workers for the mini-steam railroad operated their tiny, 18" gauge 2-3-0 locomotive. They ran a three-coach "consist" on a busy schedule, from 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. for children from eight elementary schools.

When not operating the train, busy engineers doubled as teachers in the outdoor classroom explaining locomotive and train operation to the many openmouthed, prospective junior engineers.

Whistle blowing and bell ringing were high on the list of sought-after classes by the youngsters, many of whom were getting their first glimpse of a real live-steam locomotive.

The event, first of it's kind sponsored by park and railroad officials, was planned a month earlier. Cooperation from parents, school officials, the weatherman and busy bus drivers made the event successful. Additional "outdoor school days" will be planned for the spring of 1971.

Schools participating included, Vineland, Oster, Parker, Inverness, Hoover, Presley Children's Center, El Quito Park and Arch Wilson.

The Billy Jones Wildcat Railroad is a non-profit corporation whose principal efforts are aimed at serving youth. They operate an 18" live-steam railroad in Vasona County Park and Oak Meadow City Park for the benefit of youth of all ages. Since July 26, 1970, they have hauled in excess of 70,000 passengers.

HOW A TRAIN WORKS-- Engineer Wilbur Jones, 1394 Walnut Dr., explains operation of Billy Jones Wildcat Railroad Locomotive to a group of El Quito Park School students. Over 800 school students enjoyed an outing at the Los Gatos Oak Meadow Park, where the train has been reconstructed.

Building plans fill agenda for commission next Monday

Five requests for approval of building plans including a proposed Mexican food restaurant, a service station and two apartment complexes face the Planning Commission next Monday, Dec. 7.

Variant Investment is asking for approval of a 180-unit apartment complex at 601 Almarida and B. E. Moody for a restaurant at 490 E. Hamilton (at Almarida).

Asquith Investment has submitted plans for two four-units at 51-61 Michael Dr. and West Valley Construction has plans for an office-shop at 580 McGlincey Lane.

Shell Oil is submitting revised plans for the service station at Bascom and Campbell avenues and Bogdanich Building Co. is asking approval of a revised plot plan for 198-units at 629 Hacienda. Revised plans are also being submitted for the proposed animal hospital at 1555 Winchester.

Three zone change matters will also be before the Commission – W. H. Sallin from R-3-S to P-O at 510 Eden Ave.; S. Prestigiacomo from R-3-S to P-O at 215 W. Hamilton and Ralph Dominguez from R-1 to R-2-S at 115 S. Third St.

Theater opens new production

"The Man From Arizona" will be the winter production of the Gaslighter Theater, 400 E. Campbell Ave., which will open Friday, Dec. 4.

Also known as the "Bride of the Circle S" the adaption by director Don Cupp will be performed each Friday and Saturday night at 8:30 p.m.

The melodrama opens in the living room of the Grantley family mansion in New York City. The versatile Mr. Cupp enacts the role of Jim Sackett, that minion of the old west, who comes to the aid of the financially troubled Grantley family.

Henrietta Grantley, played by Linda McKee, is on the verge of bankruptcy due to a drop in the Virginia & Truckee Railroad stock. She is worried about the future of her two daughters, Edith (Billie Goss) and Trixie (Shirlene Cupps).

Joe Mathis' rendering of Trixie's English boyfriend Gussie Chesterton, is the comic relief to the mustached villainy of Dale Verner's portrayal of Arthur Bayless.

From New York the melodrama moves west to Arizona and Sallie Sims' Siesta Saloon. There we meet two new characters, saloon-keeper Sallie, played by Faye Cupp, and local cowboy Hank Brown, played by Ray Cupps.

The play reaches its climax in the dual at Apache Pass. Will villainy and treachery overcome virtue? You can only find out by attending a performance at the Gaslighter Theater, 400 E. Campbell Ave., Friday and Saturday nights at 8:30.

Following the melodrama are the "Olios" or after-show, a form of vaudeville featuring song and dance of yesteryear with short skits designed to titalate the humorous palate of young and old alike. Bring the children, let them see LIVE olde time entertainment.

Refreshments are available in the "green room" or at your seat from the pretty lady. Free pop-corn is provided for your munching pleasure while you hiss the villain.

Reservations are advised and may be made by calling 378-9721 or by stopping in the "green room" of the theater. The "green room" is open each day, noon to midnight. Tickets will be sold at the door on a first come first served basis before each performance.

"Horse-thief" upsets kids

Whether it was a question of the "meanest man" or just someone shopping early, hasn't been determined.

What is sure is that the horse is gone.

No one is too concerned about the horse's diet. In fact, he probably fares a little better when he isn't fed too many times.

However, the proprietors of Wing's Market, Campbell Ave. and San Tomas, would kinda like to know what happened to him.

Last time they looked, he was sitting out in front of the store; but at 2 o'clock on Sunday when his owner came to service him (and collect his dimes) he was missing.

Described as an elegant stallion, poised in a galloping position, the kiddie ride was thoroughly enjoyed by mothers of small children, who used him as a reward for good behavior.

According to Campbell Police, whoever removed the kiddie ride had to have a truck or similar vehicle, as his estimated weight was 350 lbs.

HAMBURG PORT

Hamburg, Germany, is the world's second most active port, exceeded only by Rotterdam, Holland.

Food Villa will follow unique pattern of PruneYard

Shown is the new building of the Food Villa stores in the PruneYard Shopping Center. Although it will be operated as a supermarket with 23,000 square feet of floor space fronting on Bascom Ave., the new store will offer a far wider range of shopping interest than the normal supermarket, according to Bill Micali, owner.

Each department of the store will be operated as a special entity. For example, there will be a department of gourmet and international foods priced to fit into an average family budget and not just for holidays and special occasions.

All other departments too, will operate to a great extent as specialty shops each with its own staff of specialists to serve the shopper. A complete delicatessen department will also be geared to the needs of the everyday shopper, Micali said.

Another section will be devoted to poultry and foul. Even the produce department will be handled much like an individual store in its own right.

Heading a full time staff of 75 employees will be Glenn Schroll, who has had nearly 25 years experience as a buyer and store manager.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

DISTRICT 9

Training has been completed for all new Blue Bird and Camp Fire Guardians in District Nine (Campbell, Cambrian, Los Gatos, Saratoga, and Westgate areas). Over fifty women were trained in the leadership of the girls aged 7 through 12, led by Carol Ellis and Barbara Byerly.

The first district-wide activity for the girls this year was a Song Fest held in November at Fisher School in Los Gatos. Sybil Albricht led the groups in an afternoon and evening of music.

The Junior High girls of the district held a Pinning for all new seventh grade girls at Fisher School later in the month. 107 girls were welcomed into the program which was followed by a fashion show presented by the Horizon Club girls. The mistress of ceremonies for the evening was Gloria Ellis, president of the Junior High Cabinet.

The Cabinet is composed of two girls from each of the groups in the district and is planning the activities for this year's girls with the aid of Miss Renee Downy of I.B.M., adviser to the group.

FOREST HILL

The Forest Hill Camp Fire Girls are in full swing for the coming year. Eight groups have organized. The school organizer this year is Mrs. Bill Hanson. Guardians are the Mrs. C. W. Larson, John Duncan, Bill Hanson, J. Carter, Don Erpenbeck, Bill Harr, J. Villarreal, G. Landeske, and William Rhodebeck.

ELAPNOCKA

The Elapnocka Camp Fire Girls of Forest Hill School vicinity are really swinging this year. We co-hostessed a play day on Oct. 24 in which 55 fellow Camp Fire Girls participated. We also decorated for the Father-Daughter Hallowe'en Party on Oct. 30.

Each Monday night some of the girls go to the Campbell Fire Department Babysitting classes, while some others go to McKinnon School to assist in their Camp Fire program.

On Nov. 2 a post Hallowe'en Party was held at McKinnon School with costumes, games, songs and refreshments. The fifteen girls in the group are Janet Bevil, Leanne Blissard, Debbie Bourdear Cherly Fox, Terry Geer, Bonnie Green, Anne Kopecki, Susan Kerly, Michelle Lancaster, Debbie McClure, Lynn Nadler, Cherri Sawtell, Linda Solomini, Terrie Tubbs, and Nancy Wingo. Guardian is Mrs. C. W. Larson.
